

A Labor-Saving Desk Necessity
THE NEW

Eureka Legal Writing Tablet

A well-bound tablet containing 72 leaves of Manila paper, legal ruled.

It is a machine-finished paper and takes either pencil or pen.

Acts well under the eraser.

Costs Only

15c

the Tablet

Hawaiian News Co.
Limited

ALEX. YOUNG BUILDING

THE MOST SANITARY FAMILIAR BUTCHER SHOP IN THE CITY.

C. Q. Yee Hop & Co.

Phone 3451 .. 125 N. King St.

NEW GOODS

—AT—

Yee Chan & Co.

King & Bethel Sts.

LADIES' FANCY GOODS
GENTS' FURNISHINGS

Kwong Sing Loy Co.
King St. nr. Bethel

Fine Line of Dry Goods

Wah Ying Chong Co.
King St. Ewa Fishmarket

The Wong Wong Co.,
Builders and Contractors
Office: Maunaloa St.

You'll find what you want at the City Hardware Co.,
Nuuanu and King Streets

Wing Chong Co.
KING ST., NEAR BETHEL
Dealers in Furniture, Mattresses, etc. All kinds of KOA and MISSION FURNITURE made to order.

NEW DRUG STORE
SODA WATER FOUNTAIN
HAWAII DRUG CO.
42 Hotel St., at end of Bethel
Well stocked with New Drugs and Novelties.

Honolulu Cyclery
The Exclusive Agency for the famous RACLEY Bicycles for Hawaiian Islands.
180 So. King St. Tel. 2518.

Y. TAKAKUWA,
COMMISSION MERCHANT
Japanese Provisions and General Merchandise
Nuuanu St., Near King St.

NEW TRACT

Fine building lots on and near car line in the just-opened King-Young-Beretania tract; $550 to $1000. Time payments.

FOR RENT—New furnished 2-bed room cottage with piano and all improvements, $35.
Beautiful new 3-bedroom house; gas, electric light, mosquito-proof, $35.
5-bedroom house, $35.
2-bedroom house, $18.

J. H. Schnack,
137 Merchant Street

FOR SALE

$1800—House and 10-acre Farm, Kailua.
$125—Lots 50x100, 12th Ave., Kaimuki.
$75—Lot 50x100, Kapiolani Park Addition, nr. Fort Ruger.

P. E. R. STRAUCH,
Wally Building, 74 S. King Street.

CORPORATION NOTICES.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Kau Agricultural Company, Limited.
At the regular annual meeting of shareholders of the KAU AGRICULTURAL COMPANY, LIMITED, held at the office of its agents, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., in Honolulu, on February 19th, 1913, the following Directors and Auditor were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

Henry St. Goar, E. F. Bishop, W. G. Irwin, H. M. Whitney, Richard Ivers, Directors;

H. Glass, Auditor.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin President
E. F. Bishop Vice-President
H. M. Whitney Treasurer
Richard Ivers Secretary

RICHARD IVERS,
Secretary, Kau Agricultural Company, Ltd. 5475-31

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Honouapo Agricultural Company, Limited.

At the regular annual meeting of shareholders of HONOUAPO AGRICULTURAL COMPANY, LIMITED, held at the office of its agents, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., in Honolulu, February 19, 1913, the following Directors and Auditor were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

E. F. Bishop, Richard Ivers, H. M. Whitney, Directors; H. Glass, Auditor.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, the following Officers were appointed to serve for the ensuing year:

E. F. Bishop President
Richard Ivers Vice-President
H. M. Whitney Secretary & Treasurer

H. M. WHITNEY,
Secretary, Honouapo Agricultural Company, Ltd. 5475-31

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Waiohinu Agricultural and Grazing Company, Limited.

At the regular annual meeting of shareholders of the WAIHINU AGRICULTURAL & GRAZING CO., LTD., held at the office of its agents, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., in Honolulu, February 19, 1913, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin President
E. F. Bishop Vice-President
H. M. Whitney Treasurer
Richard Ivers Secretary
H. Glass Auditor

The above, with the exception of the Auditor, constituting the Board of Directors.

RICHARD IVERS,
Secretary, Waiohinu Agricultural & Grazing Co., Ltd. 5475-31

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Woodlawn Fruit Company, Limited.

At the annual meeting of shareholders of THE WOODLAWN FRUIT COMPANY, LIMITED, held at the office of its agents, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., in Honolulu, on February 19th, 1913, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin President
E. F. Bishop Vice-President
H. M. Whitney Treasurer
Richard Ivers Secretary
H. Glass Auditor

The above officers, with the exception of the Auditor, form the Board of Directors.

RICHARD IVERS,
Secretary, The Woodlawn Fruit Company, Ltd. 5475-31

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Waimanalo Sugar Company.

At the regular annual meeting of shareholders of WAIMANALO SUGAR COMPANY, held at the office of its agents, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., in Honolulu, upon February 19th, 1913, the following Directors and Auditor were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin, Richard Ivers, H. M. Whitney, E. I. Spalding and E. F. Bishop, Directors;

H. Glass, Auditor.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, the following Officers were duly appointed to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin President
Richard Ivers Vice-President
H. M. Whitney Treasurer
E. I. Spalding Secretary

H. M. WHITNEY,
Secretary pro tem, Waimanalo Sugar Company. 5475-31

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Olowalu Company

At the regular annual meeting of shareholders of OLOWALU COMPANY, held at the office of its agents, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., in Honolulu, February 19th, 1913, the following Directors and Auditor were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin, Richard Ivers, H. M. Whitney, E. I. Spalding, and E. F. Bishop, Directors; and for Auditor, H. Glass.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, held the same day, the following Officers were appointed to serve for the ensuing year:

W. G. Irwin President
Richard Ivers Vice-President
H. M. Whitney Treasurer
E. I. Spalding Secretary

E. A. ROSS,
Acting Secretary, Olowalu Company. 5475-31

NOTICE.

For the convenience of those attending the celebration in Honolulu on February 22, the departure of the train scheduled to leave at 3:20 p. m. for Wailanae, Waiolua and Kahuku will be postponed until 4:30 p. m.

An extra passenger train for Ewa Mill and way stations will leave Honolulu at 3:45 p. m. 5475-31.

ELDER STATESMEN OF JAPAN COME IN FOR SEVERE CRITICISM

[The following was written by a newspaperman in Japan.]

TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 1.—You often hear of the Elder Statesmen of Japan. These men are the real head of the Japanese government. It is these men who are now looking after the successor of the resigned cabinet. There are the parliament, privy council and other departments of government. But the determination of national policy is not in either the parliament or the cabinet. It is entirely in the hands of the elder statesmen. If the parliament and cabinet decide upon a policy it is not carried out, unless submitted to and approved by the elder statesmen. Now there are five of these elder statesmen. There is, of course, no fixed number of these. This is necessarily so, as the elder statesmen are men of great achievement and of old age. If there are more of these, there will be larger numbers of the elder statesmen, and if less, then there will be less numbers. These men are at present Princes Oyama and Yamagata and Marquis Matsukata and Inoue and Prince Katsura. Recently it has been asserted that these men, owing to their antiquated education are utterly incapable of understanding the real meaning of the modern constitutional government. They have a very distorted view of the rights of the people under a constitution. They cannot get rid of the idea that the people had no right against the government, but the duty to pay the taxes, and that they deny the people the right to be consulted about the disposition of the nation's money. The right and duty of the people, according to their view, and with payment of their taxes. These statesmen consider that the taxes are the money of the government of which the people has no more say about than John Smith about the property of his neighbor, Tom Brown. More extraordinary than that, they think that the appropriation for a particular department of the government is the exclusive property of that department.

money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

Woe unto the nation that is being ruled by men like Prince Yamagata. Woe unto the nation that has not nerve enough to put an end to this disgraceful state of things.

The rich people of Italy are demanding the right to gamble.

Prince Yamagata is said to have told a press representative that the army expansion should be carried out with the money saved from the war department and that it is intolerable that the money saved from the war department should be applied to the strengthening of the navy.

The readers will learn by this statement of the prince that he is the firm believer of the extraordinary doctrine of national finance that the nation's money paid to the government by the people in the form of taxes are not the peoples' money but the money of the government, in other words, the exclusive property of Prince Yamagata and his coteries, and that the money appropriated to the war department is forever the money of the war department and that though it may happen that that department can save money the money saved must be kept by the army itself and that it should not be applied to any other purpose whatever, however badly the country may need it in other directions.

If Yamagata were a patriot he should have said that if the country needs money for navy and the army can economize, then the money should be saved from the army and the money thus saved should be applied to the navy. But not only he did not say that but he said that is intolerable to apply the money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

Woe unto the nation that is being ruled by men like Prince Yamagata. Woe unto the nation that has not nerve enough to put an end to this disgraceful state of things.

The rich people of Italy are demanding the right to gamble.

Prince Yamagata is said to have told a press representative that the army expansion should be carried out with the money saved from the war department and that it is intolerable that the money saved from the war department should be applied to the strengthening of the navy.

The readers will learn by this statement of the prince that he is the firm believer of the extraordinary doctrine of national finance that the nation's money paid to the government by the people in the form of taxes are not the peoples' money but the money of the government, in other words, the exclusive property of Prince Yamagata and his coteries, and that the money appropriated to the war department is forever the money of the war department and that though it may happen that that department can save money the money saved must be kept by the army itself and that it should not be applied to any other purpose whatever, however badly the country may need it in other directions.

If Yamagata were a patriot he should have said that if the country needs money for navy and the army can economize, then the money should be saved from the army and the money thus saved should be applied to the navy. But not only he did not say that but he said that is intolerable to apply the money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

Woe unto the nation that is being ruled by men like Prince Yamagata. Woe unto the nation that has not nerve enough to put an end to this disgraceful state of things.

The rich people of Italy are demanding the right to gamble.

Prince Yamagata is said to have told a press representative that the army expansion should be carried out with the money saved from the war department and that it is intolerable that the money saved from the war department should be applied to the strengthening of the navy.

money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

Woe unto the nation that is being ruled by men like Prince Yamagata. Woe unto the nation that has not nerve enough to put an end to this disgraceful state of things.

The rich people of Italy are demanding the right to gamble.

Prince Yamagata is said to have told a press representative that the army expansion should be carried out with the money saved from the war department and that it is intolerable that the money saved from the war department should be applied to the strengthening of the navy.

The readers will learn by this statement of the prince that he is the firm believer of the extraordinary doctrine of national finance that the nation's money paid to the government by the people in the form of taxes are not the peoples' money but the money of the government, in other words, the exclusive property of Prince Yamagata and his coteries, and that the money appropriated to the war department is forever the money of the war department and that though it may happen that that department can save money the money saved must be kept by the army itself and that it should not be applied to any other purpose whatever, however badly the country may need it in other directions.

If Yamagata were a patriot he should have said that if the country needs money for navy and the army can economize, then the money should be saved from the army and the money thus saved should be applied to the navy. But not only he did not say that but he said that is intolerable to apply the money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

Woe unto the nation that is being ruled by men like Prince Yamagata. Woe unto the nation that has not nerve enough to put an end to this disgraceful state of things.

The rich people of Italy are demanding the right to gamble.

Prince Yamagata is said to have told a press representative that the army expansion should be carried out with the money saved from the war department and that it is intolerable that the money saved from the war department should be applied to the strengthening of the navy.

The readers will learn by this statement of the prince that he is the firm believer of the extraordinary doctrine of national finance that the nation's money paid to the government by the people in the form of taxes are not the peoples' money but the money of the government, in other words, the exclusive property of Prince Yamagata and his coteries, and that the money appropriated to the war department is forever the money of the war department and that though it may happen that that department can save money the money saved must be kept by the army itself and that it should not be applied to any other purpose whatever, however badly the country may need it in other directions.

If Yamagata were a patriot he should have said that if the country needs money for navy and the army can economize, then the money should be saved from the army and the money thus saved should be applied to the navy. But not only he did not say that but he said that is intolerable to apply the money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

Woe unto the nation that is being ruled by men like Prince Yamagata. Woe unto the nation that has not nerve enough to put an end to this disgraceful state of things.

The rich people of Italy are demanding the right to gamble.

Prince Yamagata is said to have told a press representative that the army expansion should be carried out with the money saved from the war department and that it is intolerable that the money saved from the war department should be applied to the strengthening of the navy.

The readers will learn by this statement of the prince that he is the firm believer of the extraordinary doctrine of national finance that the nation's money paid to the government by the people in the form of taxes are not the peoples' money but the money of the government, in other words, the exclusive property of Prince Yamagata and his coteries, and that the money appropriated to the war department is forever the money of the war department and that though it may happen that that department can save money the money saved must be kept by the army itself and that it should not be applied to any other purpose whatever, however badly the country may need it in other directions.

If Yamagata were a patriot he should have said that if the country needs money for navy and the army can economize, then the money should be saved from the army and the money thus saved should be applied to the navy. But not only he did not say that but he said that is intolerable to apply the money saved from the war department for the requirements of the naval department. In his eyes there is only army and neither the navy nor the country. He has forgotten that both the army and navy are the Emperor's army of defense, and that the navy is entitled to as much consideration as the army, and that he has no right whatever to say that the Emperor's navy should be neglected, or that no money should be saved from the army, though there is plenty of room for the saving, if that money were to be applied to the navy, and the country's welfare put in danger. But he was bold enough to say all this.

CORPORATION NOTICES.

NOTICE OF ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mutual Telephone Company, Ltd.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the shareholders of the Mutual Telephone Company, Limited, held at the office of the Company in Honolulu, T. H., February 10th, 1913, the following officers and Directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

E. F. Bishop President
J. R. Galt 1st Vice-President
J. A. Balch 2d Vice-President
John Waterhouse Secretary

who together with F. Klamp and R. A. Cooke constitute the Board of Directors, and O. Onsted, Auditor.

JOHN WATERHOUSE,
Secretary.
Honolulu, Feb. 11th, 1913.

4467—Feb. 11, 14, 17, 22, 24, 28, Mar. 3, 8.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS OF THE KOOLAU FRUIT COMPANY, LIMITED.

Notice is hereby given that at the annual meeting of the Koolau Fruit Company, Limited, held on the 18th day of February, 1913, the following Directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year: J. D. Dole, H. M. von Holt, L. E. Arnold, J. L. Whitmore, and K. B. Barnes; and that at the regular meeting of the Directors of said company, held the same day, the following officers were elected to serve during the coming year:

J. D. Dole President
H. M. von Holt Vice-President
K. B. Barnes, Secretary and Treasurer (Signed) K. B. BARNES, Secretary.

Honolulu, February 19, 1913. 5475-31.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS OF THE HONOLULU PACKING COMPANY, LIMITED.

Notice is hereby given that at the annual meeting of the Honolulu Packing Company, Limited, held on the 18th day of February, 1913, the following Directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year: J. D. Dole, H. M. von Holt, L. E. Arnold, J. L. Whitmore, and K. B. Barnes; and that at the regular meeting of the Directors of said company, held the same day, the following officers were elected to serve during the coming year:

J. D. Dole President
H. M. von Holt Vice-President
K. B. Barnes, Secretary and Treasurer (Signed) K. B. BARNES, Secretary.

Honolulu, February 19, 1913. 5475-31.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Pacific Guano & Fertilizer Co.

By order of the Board of Directors, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pacific Guano & Fertilizer Company will be held at the office of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., Honolulu, T. H., on Monday, February 24th, 1913, at 2 p. m., for the election of a board of directors and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

F. KLAMP,
Secretary.
4568—Feb. 12, 18, 22.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Notice is hereby given that a new Directory of Subscribers of the Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., will shortly be issued.

All subscribers desiring any change of name or address, and all intending subscribers are requested to leave instructions, in writing, at the office of the Company, Adams Lane, on or before Friday, Feb. 28th, 1913, after which date no changes will be made for the new directory.

MUTUAL TELEPHONE CO. LTD
Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 13, 1913.
5469—Feb. 13, 14, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

Hawaiian Electric Co., Ltd.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hawaiian Electric Company, Limited, will be held at three o'clock p. m. on Thursday, February 27, 1913, at the office of the company, on King street, Honolulu, Hawaii.

R. A. COOKE,
Secretary, Hawaiian Electric Co., Ltd.
Honolulu, February 15, 1913.
5475—Feb. 21, 22, 24, 25, 26

MEETING NOTICE.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of KAUAI FRUIT & LAND COMPANY will be held at the office and principal place of business of the Company, Stangenwald Building, Honolulu, T. H., on Tuesday, the 4th day of March, 1913, at 2:30 o'clock P. M.

J. WATERHOUSE,
Secretary, Kauai Fruit & Land Company.
Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 20th, 1913.
5475-10t

MEETING NOTICE.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of KAUAI ELECTRIC COMPANY will be held at the office and principal place of business of the Company, Stangenwald Building, Honolulu, T. H., on Tuesday, the 4th day of March, 1913, at 2 o'clock P. M.

ELMER E. PAXTON,
Secretary, Kauai Electric Company.
Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 20th, 1913.
5475-10t

OWL
CIGAR NOW 6c

M. A. GUNST & Co., Agts.

Freitas and Fernandez have been awarded the contract, at $9556, for building an armory for the national guard of Hawaii at Lahaina.

CORPORATION NOTICES.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Waialua Agricultural Company, Limited.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Waialua Agricultural Company, Limited, will be held at the office of Castle & Cooke, Limited, at the corner of Fort and Merchant Streets, in the City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, on Thursday, February 27th, 1913, at 10 o'clock a. m.

T. H. PETRIE,
Secretary, Waialua Agricultural Company, Limited.
Honolulu, Hawaii, February 19th, 1913. 5463-13t.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Apokaa Sugar Company, Limited.